

LOST ARM IN A CORN SHREDDER

Orville Brannon Was Maimed For Life on a Farm Near Manilla.

FIRST ACCIDENT OF THE FALL

Occurred on the Peter Stohry Farm Yesterday—Injured Man Taken to Shelbyville.

Maimed for life was Orville Brannon Monday morning in the first corn shredder accident of the season. The young man's right hand caught in the sharp knives and before the member was extricated from the position which imperiled his life, it was mangled so amputation below the elbow was necessary. The operation was performed by Drs. Will and Thomas Kennedy at the Kennedy hospital at Shelbyville.

The accident occurred on the Peter Stohry farm, near Manilla. Brannon was feeding the shredder. The knives caught his hand and slowly pulled the arm into the machine. His cries attracted other laborers and the machinery was stopped.

Brannon is 21 years of age and the son of Alfred Brannon.

It is estimated that nearly $20,000 was bet in Indianapolis on the outcome of the election in Indiana. The Indianapolis Star says today of local plungers:

"If Watson is not elected a number of his neighbors at Rushville will go 'broke,' as they have backed him liberally. One bet of $3000 even that Watson would be elected, was made by them Saturday night and they have placed several thousand dollars here."

This fund is to be known as the "Indiana Trophy." By advertising the award it is believed that farmers will see in it an incentive to greater effort. Rush county has contributed to the fund.

ELECTION DAY HOME COMING

Many Former Rushville Boys Make This Day One For Visiting.

COME LONG DISTANCE TO VOTE

Young People in School Have an Opportunity to Spend a Few Days With Home Folks.

Election day always has a double meaning to former Rushville boys who are now employed in different parts of the United States. They not only come home to vote but have a chance to visit old friends and relatives once more. Many do not get home only on such an occasion and therefore look forward to election day with much anticipation of pleasure and joy in meeting old boyhood companions once more.

Many gray-haired parents have known unbounded joy today, when they saw once more their only son, perhaps for the last time.

Young people who are attending school over the State also had opportunity to visit home-folks, as most colleges dismiss on election day.

The following came home to vote: Roy Aldridge, Lafayette; Roy Barnard, Indianapolis; Deleina Bradford, Muncie; Joseph Blakely, Washington, D. C.; Leslie Bootright, Muncie; A. H. Crawford, Monon; Harry Carr, Chicago, Ill.; Ben Caldwell, Decatur, Ill.; Joseph Caldwell, Washington, D. C.; Homer Cole, Pennsylvania; Alex Ford, Marion; Orin Ferguson, Indianapolis; Walter Frazee, Lexington, Ky.; Claude Hilligoss, Piqua, Ohio; Wylie Havens, Anderson; Reuben Hicks, Marion; James Havens, Marion; Orpheus Hayes, Dayton, Ohio; Nathan Hill, Lafayette; John Lee, Indianapolis; Clarence Lindon, Lexington, Ky.; Leon McDaniel, Lafayette; Jesse Norris, Chicago, Ill.; Ralph Nipp, Ann Arbor, Mich.; Orle Price, Newport, Ky.; Walter Price, Newport, Ky.; O. J. Shillig, St. Louis, Mo.; Grant Skillman, Chicago, Ill.; Homer Gregg, Detroit, Mich.; David Whipple, Marion; Charles Wolfe, Washington, D. C.; Walter Williams, Indianapolis; A. S. Whitton, Anderson; Gordon York, Cincinnati, Ohio; Clifford S. Lee, Indianapolis; Walter Havens, Indianapolis; W. A. Posey, Washington, D. C.; Claude Simpson, Indianapolis; Obern Reade, Piqua, Ohio.

By eleven o'clock practically complete returns should be received from New York State which uses the voting machine in all precincts. Indianapolis results should be known as early as ten o'clock.

The State of Ohio has but three voting machines in use and authentic returns cannot be received before morning.

The work of placing the gravel on the grade will progress rapidly and it is the hope of the contractors to have the work done within two weeks.

A gallon of properly mixed paint will cover about 600 square feet of surface.

WHAT DID EARLY VOTING MEAN?

Republican Leaders Look on it as a Good Omen—Big Vote Means Big Majority.

LITTLE SCRATCHING WAS DONE

This Means That the Republicans Will Have a Sweeping Victory in the Count.

It was Republican weather anyway. If we did not win today then there is nothing in signs, favorable conditions, good platforms and high class candidates. Whenever the weather is fair it causes men to feel good and naturally they vote the Republican ticket. But let it be raining, cold, blustery and mean—mean enough to make one feel mean—then they are liable to do anything.

In the rural districts, where a large Republican vote, lives, good Republican weather has a tendency to bring them out to a man.

Never before in the history of the county was the vote in so early. In nearly every precinct, the ticket—especially the State and electoral—was voted quick, denoting very little scratching. Local Republican leaders took an optimistic view of the rapid voting, saying it was evidence that the tickets were voted straight, and they have enough faith in the people of this city, to believe they would not vote for Bryan under any circumstances. The forecast was a sweeping majority everywhere.

From the time the polls opened at 6 o'clock, party leaders were active. Election day weather was never better and sunshine and a pleasant temperature undoubtedly gave impetus to the election day activity. At an early hour big automobiles were darting around in every part of the city and cabs and buggies, although going more slowly, were getting there just the same. All of the livery barns reported that the patronage was excellent, and a man who wished to get a buggy merely to take a pleasure drive was not in it. The conveyances had been engaged for something more important. They were filled with voters anxious to exercise their franchises as American citizens.

NOTES.

By eleven o'clock practically complete returns should be received from New York State which uses the voting machine in all precincts. Indianapolis results should be known as early as ten o'clock.

The State of Ohio has but three voting machines in use and authentic returns cannot be received before morning.

The Bell telephone company has a wire direct into Republican headquarters.

Local Democrats will hear the sad news at the Kramer rink.

Quite a large number left for Indianapolis to hear the returns and see a show from the same "point of vantage."

The salons were closed today—inside and out.

Never before was there such a large vote cast so early.

Sunday's Indianapolis Star said: Mr. Watson will set a good example by voting early and he will then enjoy a day of rest and recreation with his family—the first in a good many months. As usual he will spend election night at home. "I am never nervous about the results of an election," he said. "I make the best of the fight I can and then rest easy. I shall go to bed early Tuesday night, for I need sleep. If the verdict of the people is in my favor some one will awaken me to tell me the news, and if it isn't they will let me sleep until morning."

The election law, where voting machines are used, allows but one minute to each voter. If your vote is not cast in that length of time the election board has the power to remove you from the booth and your vote is lost.

Several of the leading society clubs of this city will hold an all night session tonight to hear the election returns. Never before were the women so interested.

The drum corps and bands are hereby instructed to hold themselves in readiness for the serenade.

Outside of New York State, the State of Indiana is the largest user of voting machines. New Jersey and California come next.

Five precincts in Shelbyville are supplied with voting machines.

The Republican will print the complete official vote of Rush county as soon as a tabulated statement can be prepared.

LOCAL BOY MAKES GOOD IN FOOTBALL

Ralph Stiffler is Holding Down a Regular Position on Butler College Eleven.

ENVIUS REPUTATION HERE

Ralph Stiffler has made good on the Butler Foot ball team and is filling the regular position at right end. Stiffler gained an envious reputation while playing on the high school team here and has ably upheld it so far during this season.

The Indianapolis Sunday Star says in part about the Butler-Earham game last Saturday: "Stiffler, McKay and Thomas had more power than they knew what to do with. Stiffler's tackling, McKay's forward passes and Thomas' punting had it on the Earham team so far that the Quakers might as well have stood on the side line."

GIVE DINNER FOR THE POOR

Salvation Army Should be Liberally Supported on Thanksgiving.

It is likely that the local Salvation Army Corps will give a Thanksgiving dinner for the worthy poor of the city. In event they take charge of the affair local people who have been blessed with prosperity throughout the year should be liberal in donations.

LAST DAY FOR FALL TAXES

Treasurer's Office Was a Very Busy Place Yesterday.

Monday was the last day for paying the fall installment of taxes and this fact brought a large number of people to the city. The treasurer's office was a busy place throughout the day as the taxpayers have been rather slow until the last three days of the week when they came in rapidly. There will be some delinquents as there always are, but Treasurer Caldwell is pretty well satisfied with his collections.

TORE THE EAGLES OFF HIS BALLOT

Henry Brown Was Trying to do "Something" and Landed in Jail.

WENT SOUTH WITH A BALLOT

And Captured Two Birds—Matter of Conjecture What he Intended Doing.

Henry Brown, a teamster, was arrested today and placed in jail by Sheriff King for alleged shady transactions in connection with the casting of his vote. In fact, he did not get to vote, neither will he be allowed to exercise his right of franchise at this election.

Brown went into the booth at the Windsor hotel voting place with the three ballots given him, but when he came out he only had two to give to the keeper of the ballot box. When asked what he did with the third ballot, he replied he had left it in the booth. An investigation proved that he had told a falsehood. An officer was sent on his trail and he was apprehended and placed in jail. When searched at the jail it was found he had torn the two eagles off the national and county ballots and these he had concealed under his shirt. He will be held until he can give a satisfactory explanation. Brown was polled as a Democrat.

His arrest was the only one made today, there being the best of order maintained and the kindest feeling prevalent, an unlooked for condition in view of the fact that today marked the close of one of the bitterest campaigns ever waged in Indiana.

ACTORS LAUGH AT THE WRONG TIME

How the Effect of Good Motion Pictures is Destroyed by Thoughtlessness.

BIG DEMAND FOR THE FILMS

In these days of extravagant demand for motion picture films the makers resort to most every imagination to make subjects and sometimes the results bring the laugh in the wrong place.

Occasionally a good series of pictures are spoiled by the thoughtlessness of the actors, an example of which was seen at a local theater recently in the pictures of a ship burning at sea. When the smoke and flames were eating their way up into the ship and people were supposed to be frightened and frantic a woman with a baby in her arms is laughing with all her might and several men are apparently joking over a fall one had over a rope.

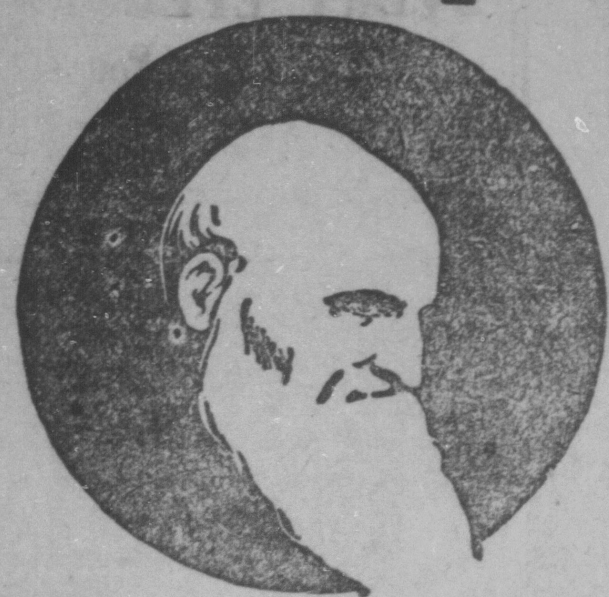

New York has a new apartment house, accommodating 170 families and flats of six to twelve rooms each.

THE BALLOTS ARE FALLING

Nation's Electorate Voicing Its Sentiments Today.

THE COUNTING OF THE VOTES

This is About All That Now Remains to Determine the Outcome of One of the Most Interesting and Warmly Contested Political Campaigns in the History of American History—It is Apparent From All Reports That the Fight for the Presidency is Unusually Close.

New York, Nov. 3.—Throughout the land today the ballots are falling. All the speeches have been made and all prophecies uttered. Nothing remains but the counting of the votes.

According to reliable information received here at the latest moment, the fight today between the two leading aspirants for the presidency is close. The result, even today, is in doubt, despite the enthusiastic declarations of party managers that "it's all over but the shouting." Add to the electoral votes conceded to Mr. Bryan those of the doubtful states and he will win. The states conceded to the Republican candidate have, however, a larger number of electoral votes than those admittedly Democratic. If Mr. Taft is victorious in the doubtful states his majority will be very great.

The electoral vote in the last presidential election, in 1904, was as follows:

	Parker. Roosevelt.
Alabama	11
Arkansas	9
California	10
Colorado	5
Connecticut	7
Delaware	3
Florida	5
Georgia	13
Idaho	3
Illinois	27
Indiana	15
Iowa	13
Kansas	10
Kentucky	13
Louisiana	9
Maine	6
Maryland	7
Massachusetts	16
Michigan	14
Minnesota	11
Mississippi	10
Missouri	18
Montana	3
Nebraska	8
Nevada	3
New Hampshire	4
New Jersey	12
New York	39
North Carolina	12
North Dakota	4
Ohio	23
Oregon	4
Pennsylvania	34
Rhode Island	4
South Carolina	9
South Dakota	4
Tennessee	12
Texas	18
Utah	3
Vermont	4
Virginia	12
Washington	5
West Virginia	7
Wisconsin	13
Wyoming	3
Total	140 336

While the fight for the presidency is attracting the greatest amount of attention here and elsewhere, it is by no means the only issue of importance today. A new house of representatives, the lower branch of the Sixty-first congress is being elected. In twenty-eight states governors are being balloted for, and some of the states will choose legislatures which will elect United States senators. The terms of thirty-one senators—eighteen Republicans and thirteen Democrats—will expire on March 4. Among them are Platt of New York, Stone of Missouri, Smoot of Utah, Stephenson of Wisconsin and Perkins of California. In twenty-three states a total of ninety proposed constitutional amendments, laws, questions or propositions are being voted upon. This does not include Michigan, where revision of the present constitution has been submitted to the electors for adoption or rejection. Of general interest in this connection is the vote in South Dakota on the question of repealing the "one year residence" act passed by the last legislature in order to stop rapid divorces.

The number of tickets in the states varies from one to six. Only the Democrats have tickets in the field in South Carolina and Louisiana, while in Ohio the voters have the privilege of choosing among seven sets of candidates for the state offices. An interesting feature of the contest in Utah is the presence of the so-called "American party," opposed to the influence of the Mormon church in politics. The Prohibition party has tickets in twenty-one states, the Socialist party in twenty-seven, the Independence party in twelve, the Socialist Labor party in six and People's or Populist party in five, including Nebraska, where the Populists have fused with the Democrats. The Socialist Labor party has a "proxy" candidate for president, the real nominee being Martin R. Preston who is confined in a Nevada jail on a charge of murder. The proxy is August Gilhaus of New York.

Here in New York state the fight for re-election made by Governor Hughes is almost overshadowing the national contest. Other states are also seeing today the finishes of bitter local contests. In Connecticut Congressman Lilley of submarine boat fame has as opponent Judge A. Heaton Robertson. New Jersey and Pennsylvania have been able to give their undivided attention to national and local issues, neither state electing a governor today. In Illinois Governor Deneen's claim to another term in office has been contested by former Vice President Adlai E. Stevenson. The congressional contest that has attracted most attention has been that between Speaker Cannon and Henry C. Bell, the Democrat who has his eyes on Uncle Joe's seat.

In Minnesota two descendants of Scandinavia are trying for election as governor. The Democrat is Governor John A. Johnson of national fame, and his Republican opponent is Jacob F. Jacobson. Missouri's leading candidates for the governorship are Congressman William S. Cowherd, Democrat, and Attorney General Herbert S. Hadley, Republican, who have had to yield a large share of the limelight in their state to the fight that is being made by Governor Joseph W. Folk for the senatorship. Senator Stone is seeking re-election, and the Republican aspirant for the place is Richard C. Kerens. In Mr. Bryan's state the candidates for governor are A. C. Shallenberger, Democrat, who beat Omaha's "cowboy" mayor, Jim Dahlman, in the primaries, and the incumbent of the office, George L. Sheldon. The Ohio fight has been waged with great bitterness and zeal, the Republican nominee in Mr. Taft's home state being Governor Andrew L. Harris, who is opposed by Judson Harmon, attorney general in Mr. Cleveland's cabinet.

Reports from Chicago, Boston, Philadelphia and other large cities say that the voting both in the city precincts and in the country districts is heavy, the apathy that marked the greater part of the campaign being succeeded by the efforts of the politicians to "bring out the vote." At the headquarters of both parties in this city this is hailed as an encouraging sign, figures being combined in numerous and bewildering combinations to prove that one or the other of the candidates will be successful in landing the big prize.

The headquarters of all the minor parties are exceedingly busy places today. The Independence party men, Socialists and Prohibitionists declare that their respective candidates will poll votes greatly in excess of those conceded to them by the old party men. This feeling is especially marked at the Independence and Socialist quarters, where the followers of Messrs. Hisgen and Debs assert that the returns will astonish the country. Concerning the presidential situation, the prophecies of professional political prophets made weeks ago are being fulfilled today. They repeated then the ancient axiom, "As goes New York so goes the Union." Time has confirmed their diagnosis of the situation. All eyes today are on the Empire State. The managers of both parties claim its thirty-nine electoral votes, and all declare they see victory for their respective state candidates. The voting is being done rapidly up the state, some of the districts having already reported the polling of their full vote. The city moves in a more deliberate manner, however, and the streets are filled with animated, busy groups of party workers. In a great majority of the polling places the voting is slow, indicating, according to experienced politicians, much "scratching" or voting of split tickets.

Didn't Take Taft Long.
Cincinnati, Nov. 3.—The strain of his speechmaking tours could be detected in Mr. Taft's voice when he responded to the greetings of those who turned out to see the Republican candidate for the presidency cast his ballot. Since his arrival in his home city after his nomination Cincinnati has not had much opportunity to pay attention to Mr. Taft, and today a crowd assembled at the voting place to greet him. To inquiries about his health Mr. Taft replied that he felt all right, and he answered questions about the outcome of the battle with the smiling assurance that he felt no fear. He was not kept waiting in order to cast his ballot, the crowd making way for him readily. As his portly form passed through the group of bystanders numerous hands were thrust out to him with good wishes. Before passing on Mr. Taft grasped as many as he could, thanking their owners for their greetings. The casting of his ballot required only a short time.

Mr. Bryan Confident.
Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 3.—Long before the arrival of William Jennings Bryan at his polling place he was awaited by enthusiastic Democrats and spectators of all political faiths. When his familiar form was seen approaching a cheer broke forth that was smilingly acknowledged by Mr. Bryan. He was seemingly in good health and spirits, showing little sign of his strenuous campaign work. After bowing to the crowd and grasping the hands of those near him, the Democratic candidate cast his vote. Before leaving Mr. Bryan asserted his entire confidence in the success of the national and state Democratic tickets, paying especial attention to Nebraska.

The public statement of the public debt shows that at the close of business Oct. 31, the debt, less cash in the treasury, amounted to $976,775,625.

DEBS BROKE ALL RECORDS

"Red Special" Makes Longest Campaign Trip.

20,000 MILE TOUR IS ENDED

When Socialist Candidate Reached His Home City Last Night He Had Made a 20,000-Mile Trip Across the Country and Back in His Celebrated "Red Special" and Had Thus Made the Longest Campaign Trip Ever taken by a National Party—Warmly Welcomed in Home City.

Terre Haute, Ind., Nov. 3.—Closing his campaign as Socialist candidate for president in his home city last night, Eugene V. Debs was tendered one of the most remarkable demonstrations of the campaign. He was scheduled to speak at the Coliseum on the arrival of the "Red Special" from its 20,000-mile tour which took Mr. Debs twice across the country. He found the large auditorium packed and was compelled to speak at an overflow meeting in the armory.

Thousands of Socialists had come to Terre Haute on special trains from points in Indiana and Illinois. These joined local delegations and formed a monster parade which escorted Mr. Debs from the train through the principal streets of the city to the Coliseum. Many women marched in the parade and carried banners. One banner bore the words, "Debs for President Until Elected."

The national committee announces that the collection taken at the various meetings on the tour amounted to $14,000. The cost of the trip will be more than $25,000. The "Red Special" has been on the road since Aug. 31, and has made the longest campaign trip ever taken by a national party.

THE INDIANA SITUATION

Both Parties Claiming the State as the Ballots Fall Today.

Indianapolis, Nov. 3.—The campaign in Indiana closed with the Republicans generally less confident of Judge Taft's success than at any time since his nomination. The marvelous ovations received by Bryan Saturday in the eastern and northern parts of the state caused no end of anxiety in the camp of his opponents, who are wondering today whether or not a Bryan landslide is due.

Chairman Goodrich of the Republican state committee, while refusing to give out a statement discussing the conditions in Indiana, expressed the opinion just before leaving for his home at Winchester, that Indiana is safely Republican for the national and state tickets. He refused to change his estimate of 40,000 for Judge Taft and 20,000 for James E. Watson, nominee for governor.

Chairman Jackson of the Democratic state committee, before leaving for his home at Greenfield, issued a statement claiming Indiana for the Democrats and declaring that the victory was won.

The Republicans at the last moment seemed more encouraged on their state ticket than they have been at any time. The late reports they received indicated that there had been a change of sentiment favorable to Watson. Party leaders on both sides said that it is not likely that Marshall will be elected governor unless Bryan carries the state, and that if Taft has a plurality exceeding 15,000, Watson will win by a narrow margin. Reports from the large centers indicate that both parties were in fairly good shape to get out the vote, and that a record poll may be expected today.

Saloon Man Accidentally Shot.
Fort Wayne, Ind., Nov. 3.—Dietrich F. W. Nahrwald was shot and killed in his saloon by Dennis Kelly, one of close friends. The weapon was a new repeating rifle which Nahrwald had recently purchased and of which he was very proud. His son and a friend had been out practicing with it and returned to the saloon to find it full of people. There was much curiosity to see the gun, it is said, and a scramble to handle it resulted in it exploding a cartridge. Nahrwald was instantly killed.

Fell Dead in New Grave.
Paoli, Ind., Nov. 3.—David Clancy, while digging a grave for the burial of the Rev. Cyrus Jones, was stricken with paralysis, fell in the open grave and died a few hours later. The wife of Mr. Clancy has been a sufferer for many weeks and at the time of her husband's death her own death was expected. It is thought that she cannot survive the shock. Mr. Clancy, who was fifty-eight years old, was a highly respected citizen.

Horses Perish in Flames.
Wabash, Ind., Nov. 3.—Ned E. G. Haines' livery barn burned to the ground and six horses were cremated. The building was a mass of flames when the fire was discovered, and it was only by hard work that any of the horses were taken from the building. Many buggies were burned and all of the harness was destroyed. The loss is partly covered by insurance.

Finally the evening offering at the suggestion of the evangelist was given to a hospital.

Sunday has caused 2,542 professions of conversion and 20,000 people heard him on the closing Sunday. ### CONCLUDING ARGUMENTS

Summing Up Being Made Today in Celebrated Bank Case.

New York, Nov. 3.—Concluding arguments are being made today in the cases of Charles W. Morse and Alfred R. Curtis, former officials of the National Bank of North America, on trial in the United States court here, charged with violation of the national banking laws. The attorneys for Morse and Curtis began the final moves in the case by securing the dismissals of the counts in the indictment against their clients referring to the Calvin Austin loan of $100,000 in connection with which misappropriation had been charged. With this matter decided the summing up for the defense proceeded. Charles E. Littlefield addressed the jury in behalf of Morse and former Judge W. M. K. O'cott argued in extenuation of the irregularities laid at the door of Curtis.

The Badge of Honesty

Is on every wrapper of Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery because a full list of the ingredients composing it is printed there in plain English. Forty years of experience has proven its superior worth as a blood purifier and invigorating tonic for the cure of stomach disorders and all liver ills. It builds up the run-down system as no other tonic can in which alcohol is used. The active medicinal principles of native roots such as Golden Seal and Queen's root, Stone and Mandrake root, Bloodroot and Black Cherry bark are extracted and preserved by the use of chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine. Send to Dr. R. V. Pierce at Buffalo, N. Y., for free booklet which quotes extracts from well-recognized medical authorities such as Drs. Bartholow, King, Scudder, Coe, Ellingwood and a host of others, showing that these roots can be depended upon for their curative action in all weak states of the stomach, accompanied by indigestion or dyspepsia as well as in all bilious or liver complaints and in all wasting diseases where there is loss of flesh and gradual running down of the strength and system.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" makes rich, pure blood and so invigorates and regulates the stomach, liver and bowels, and, through them, the whole system. Thus all skin affections, blotches, pimples and eruptions as well as scrofulous swellings and old open running sores or ulcers are cured and healed. In treating old running sores, or ulcers, it is well to insure their healing to apply to them Dr. Pierce's All-Healing Salve. If your druggist don't happen to have this Salve in stock, send fifty-four cents in postage stamps to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., and a large box of the "All-Healing Salve" will reach you by return post.

You can't afford to accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this non-alcoholic, medicine or known composition, not even though the urgent dealer may thereby make a little bigger profit.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Sugar-coated, tiny granules, easy to take as candy.

FAMOUS PEOPLE

BY FANNIE M. LOTHROP

HOMER WATSON

The Great Landscape Painter.

Every great landscape artist is both a poet and a painter. The imagination, the intuition, the interpretation, the sympathy, the reverence, the love, kinship and communion with Nature of the poet, filtering through the mind of the artist find their medium of expression in brush and colors. Every great painting is a poem in paint instead of in print.

One feels this strongly in the presence of Homer Watson's paintings, the putting on canvas of a single mood, with detail ever subordinated to the general effect. They are never photographic, but are always strongly individual interpretations. Whether it be a rough sea with the dancing fisher-boats under a dull, rain-filled sky, the white mill catching the high lights with its background of foliage, the lone rider bent over his horse plodding along a rain-washed road, some noble monarch forest tree braving the elements, or his interpretations of any other moods of Nature, one always feels the sentiment, the richness of color, the atmosphere, the glow, the feeling—all seem parts of a single effect. The dainty daubs of detail characteristic of some painters find no place in Mr. Watson's work; it is ever bold, rugged, broad in treatment, breathing vigor and vitality.

Homer Watson was born in the little village of Doon, on Grand River, Ont., in 1856, and as a boy at school showed his natural instinct for art when he surreptitiously drew on his slate an over-vivid picture of the strong and peculiar features of his teacher, which drew upon him deserved punishment. He seemed to turn naturally to landscape work, and his first large painting "The Pioneer Mill," which appeared at the first exhibition of the Royal Canadian Academy was purchased by the Marquis of Lorne, and now hangs in a place of honor in Windsor Castle.

Mr. Watson has exhibited at the Academy in England, the New Gallery, the New English Art Club, the Glasgow Institute and at International Expositions, and been honored by one-man exhibitions where thirty or more of his paintings were hung together, thus enabling one to study comparatively the range of his work. He makes almost annual trips to England, but loves Canada, her scenes and her people too well to take up permanent residence abroad. It is always dangerous to compare the work of one painter with another as it may carry with it a suggestion of imitation which would be unjust to one whose work is so individual as Mr. Watson's; but the critics in their appreciation of his paintings couple his name with Corot, Constable, Diaz, Rousseau and Courbet—a noble band of masters with whom Canada's painter may feel honored to be classed.

The world cruise of the American fleet is such a splendid manifestation of American seamanship and discipline and of American workmanship, that everyone may well view it with justifiable pride.

A Terra-cotta bath tub was found in a bath room of the queen's apartments in Crete, exactly as it was left there some 3,500 years ago. One usually feels that domestic and social life must have been vastly different in those old times, but we see how very much it was like our own.

Perhaps nothing more clearly shows the rapidly growing power of the temperance movement and the improvement of morals than the changing attitude of the large city dailies and of monthly magazines towards the liquor interests. Many magazines already refuse to receive liquor advertisements, and one by one the large dailies are taking the same position. One of the latest of these is the Minneapolis Journal, one of the most influential papers of the northwest. Of course the country press generally has long since taken that stand, thereby reflecting the greater strength of temperance sentiment in the smaller cities and rural districts.

Among the facts of interest brought out at the International Road Congress in Paris, says the Scientific American, is the extremely small per cent of public roads in the United States that have been improved and rebuilt on modern lines. Out of a total of 2,151,570 miles of public road only 7.14 per cent, or 152,662 miles, have thus been improved. Most of the papers were agreed that the ideal road of the future should have a hard, unyielding foundation, with a surface of suitable broken-stone ballast, treated with some preparation to prevent the stripping of the top dressing. There is a consensus of opinion that treatment with tar has proved the most efficacious in shedding water and in keeping down the dust.

The Princess Kropotkin, a member of the Russian nobility and a lady of great intellectual attainments, promises to visit America in January next. This will bring the immigration authorities of the United States face to face with a serious problem, for the princess professes herself to be an Anarchist, and while not an advocate of "propaganda by deed," is still opposed to organized government. Her husband is also an Anarchist, and like Count Tolstoy, would be turned back at Ellis Island by the Exclusion act. The Kropotkins, who are exiles from Russia, have lived in London for the past twenty years. The prince is a well-known and respected author and man of science, while the princess is almost as gifted as her husband, having taken degrees at the universities of Paris and Geneva and being a contributor to several reviews and periodicals. The American friends of the princess say that she will most certainly write herself down an Anarchist in the blank with foreigners are required to fill out. The immigration authorities, however, are expected to recognize the difference between her sort of anarchism and that of John Turner, who was excluded a few years ago.

CURRENT COMMENT

Tourists as Press Agents.

Europe is wondering whether last year's record of 150,000 touring Americans hauling out $150,000,000 to $200,000,000 in various ways is likely to be kept up or anything near it. As a rule the European caterers and traders are ready to take all the American money that comes along "and no questions asked." Recently the Nuova Antologia, published in Rome, discussed the question in its moral bearings and said:

It has often been asked whether a country is really benefited by the revenue it obtains from foreign visitors. It is reasonable to presume that when travelers merely make their tour a pretext for idle and unrestrained vagabondage they do no good to the land they visit. If, on the other hand, their tour serves the purpose of promoting mutual culture, of spreading refinement and civilization, of drawing different nations into a closer brotherhood and making them better acquainted one with another, in teaching each people that something is always to be learned from a foreigner, then, decidedly, travel is a good thing, and quite worth the extravagant expenditure of money and of energy which we have recorded.

No doubt there is a double commercial gain for Europe in the advent of an annual army of Americans taking a holiday. They leave much money on the spot, and they also display tastes which teach the foreign traders what to send over to our markets. On the other hand, they advertise America as a land for all sorts of ventures. A people that can live so generously must have sources of wealth behind them. Besides, a good one-half of these tourists are of European blood and show what prosperity the foreigner can win here in the course of perhaps one generation. All doubt in an intending emigrant's mind as to where to go must be cleared up at the spectacle of a mixed class of Americans doing Europe, visiting the paternal home, traveling and buying, and so many new faces in the procession every year that it seems that prosperity—at least from the European point of view—must rest upon about every hearthstone in America.

A New Kind of "Undesirable."

The applicant too good for the job is just as much a misfit as the one too poor for the job. Getting the city unemployed back to the land led to a revelation of changes in farm life the last few years. With the young men away in the shops, at school and in clerkships the fields had to be tilled, and the farmer took in whatever he could persuade or bribe to fill the gap. The effect is described by a city man who took the advice of the social economist when the city didn't want him and struck out for a farm, the life in which he was first trained.

There was nothing to suggest the latter day farm hand looking for work in the tidy dress and white skin of the "tramp," and when not treated like a thief at the farmhouse doors he was plainly told that he would never do. Finally his story impressed a candid man who wanted help just then at milking, shingling the barn and hoeing corn. He worked all day with his employer, gave satisfaction and was treated as he had been among home folks before he "abandoned the land." But the farmer paid him off at the end of the day because he had no place for him to sleep except in the garret with "the rest of the help," and the family wouldn't tolerate a hired man at the regular table. The "rest of the help" had meals in the kitchen, but the farmer couldn't bear to see his working companion taking up with that crowd, or something to that effect.

Frankly the farmer confessed that times have changed because employers have been forced to take in "undesirables" from the tramp or immigrant class and the line has been sharply drawn between "help" and "our kind of folks." The city man was of the right sort as to essentials, but was impossible nevertheless. Here seems to be an economic problem for agricultural associations to wrestle with.

THE BRAVE AT HOME.

THE maid who binds her warrior's sash.
With smile that well her pain dissembles.
The while beneath her drooping lash
One starry teardrop hangs and trembles.
Though heaven alone records the tear
And fame shall never know the story.
Her heart has shed a drop as dear
As e'er bedewed the field of glory.

THE wife who girds her husband's sword
Mid little ones who weep or wonder
And bravely speaks the cheering word,
What though her heart be rent asunder.
Doomed nightly in her dreams to hear
The bolts of death around him rattle,
Hath shed as sacred blood as e'er
Was poured upon a field of battle.

THE mother who conceals her grief
While to her breast her son she presses,
Then breathes a few brave words and brief,
Kissing the patriot brow she blesses,
With no one but her secret God
To know the pain that weighs upon her,
Sheds holy blood as e'er the sod
Received on freedom's field of honor.

BY THE WAYSIDE

The fearless editor may offend and lose a subscriber, but if he is right in the end he will gain five. He may lose an advertiser but if he is right he will gain two thereby. If he labors not to defend anyone he will please no one. If he tries to ride all the horses in the field he will be unhorsed by each of them. The editor should follow his honest, well considered convictions, and in the main he should labor to please himself. If he does this with ability and without fear or favor, he will have a greater following and better support, though he be wronged half the time, than he who trims his sail to every passing breeze, and without chart or compass principles or purpose, drifts aimlessly with every shifting tide.

"Oh the contrariness of some purchasers," wailed a young woman clerk Saturday, as she started to place on the shelves countless yards of ribbon following a small sale to a tall, angular shape visaged woman of uncertain age, who looked as if the whole world was "agin" her.

"You see that woman going out?" continued the clerk pointing to the retreating form of the aforesaid angular one, "well she gave me more trouble today in making a fifteen cent purchase than I have had in more than a week.

"She wanted ribbon of a certain shade. She did not have a sample of the kind with her and later got one. Then I matched it. But she asserted there was a difference in the shades. Thereupon, although they looked the same, I took out other rolls for her inspection. I could not satisfy her in more than a dozen tries. And all the time she made my nerves tingle by her remarks over the inability of some clerks to hold the trade of best customers and how she was never able to get her money's worth at this store.

"After listening to her jabbering for some time, I hit upon a scheme. I showed her several shades that I knew were not the right ones. Then I took the roll I had shown her first, and which in my opinion, was the exact match, and pulled it forth.

"Here," I said, "is a shade that perhaps may suit, although it does not match in my opinion."

"She looked at it for a moment, and then tossed it back. 'Why didn't you show it to me in the first place,' she cried. 'That just what I want Give me a half yard.'

"I felt like telling her that the ribbon she bought was the one I had shown her first, but as times are hard, and positions are not easily secured, I kept silent.

"We have such experiences once ever so often, and while they are rather trying, they ultimately prove refreshing if they turn out as did this incident."

Airship Impracticable For Commercial Use.

By ORVILLE WRIGHT, Successful Inventor.

THE time may come when aerial craft will be used for commercial purposes, but I doubt it. I don't want to go on record too emphatically on this question. Those of us who have made some progress in aerial navigation know that the SCIENCE IS STILL IN ITS INFANCY.

WE HAVE A LOT TO LEARN, AND WE ARE LEARNING MORE AND MORE EVERY DAY, THEREFORE IT WOULD BE FOOLISH TO SET LIMITATIONS AT THIS EARLY STAGE UPON WHAT MAY HAPPEN IN THE FUTURE.

BUT, AS A GENERAL PROPOSITION, I THINK IT SAFE TO SAY THAT THE CARRIAGE OF PASSENGERS AND FREIGHT BY AIR CRAFT WILL NOT BECOME PRACTICABLE FOR A LONG TIME, IF IT EVER DOES. IT WOULD BE ENTIRELY TOO EXPENSIVE TO COMPETE WITH RAIL OR WATER TRANSPORTATION.

You know a bird expends MORE ENERGY IN FLIGHT than a quadruped does in walking. It is the same way with airships.

IT TAKES MORE ENERGY TO PROPEL AN AIRSHIP THAN IT DOES TO PROPEL A TRAIN OR A SHIP—WATER VESSEL. THEREFORE IT WILL BE SO EXPENSIVE TO OPERATE AIRSHIPS FOR SOME TIME TO COME, AND I REALLY THINK FOR ALL TIME, THAT NO TRANSPORTATION COMPANY WOULD FOR AN INSTANT CONSIDER THE ESTABLISHMENT OF A LINE OF AIRSHIPS AS A COMMERCIAL VENTURE.

Then there is another point. We do not know yet HOW BIG WE CAN BUILD AIRSHIPS OR AEROPLANES. We know, however, that they will in time be made much larger than ours and will fly successfully. But here is an interesting feature of the aeroplane:

THE LARGER THE AEROPLANE THE HEAVIER IN PROPORTION MUST BE THE ENGINE WHICH PROPELS IT. THEREFORE, WHEN WE BUILD AN AEROPLANE LARGE ENOUGH TO CARRY FREIGHT, THE ENGINE WILL BE SO HEAVY THAT THE ALLOWANCE FOR LOAD CARRYING WILL BE MUCH SMALLER, AND A GREAT BIG MACHINE CAPABLE OF LONG FLIGHT AT A HIGH RATE OF SPEED WOULD BE ABLE TO CARRY ONLY A VERY SMALL LOAD IN PROPORTION.

To my mind the most valuable features of future flying machines will be their ability to attain A HIGH RATE OF SPEED and their ability TO REACH OTHERWISE INACCESSIBLE PLACES

No "Scratching" Here.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Nov. 3.—President Roosevelt's entry today into the village from his home at Sagamore Hill was made the occasion of a great popular demonstration. The president is personally popular with the residents of the village, and they made a place for him at the local polling place with great alacrity. He took only a few seconds to mark and deposit his ballot. When one of the bystanders ventured to shout "Three cheers for Taft!" the president turned on him one of his famous grins. Mr. Roosevelt declared his great confidence in the success of the Republican ticket both state and national.

Washington Out of It.

Washington, Nov. 3.—With the greatest interest, personal, official and financial, in the result of the election the national capital is debarked from taking any active part in its determination. The city today is dead, absolutely and unqualifiedly dead. The great mass of officeholders have gone home to vote—that is, the male officeholders, who retain their legal residences in their former homes, have done so. Many of the female clerks, secretaries and stenographers have also improved the opportunity of taking a holiday, and as a result Washington is spending its usual quiet election day.

Old Mine to Be Reopened.

Petersburg, Ind., Nov. 3.—Captain John Mackler of St. Louis and Samuel H. Wulfin of Huntington, who formerly owned the Hartwell mines in this county, have purchased the Win slow coal mines that have been idle for several years. They have installed pumps and will resume operations on a large scale within a few weeks. A new shaft will be sunk at once.

THE "KISS ME" COAT.

Latest Thing In Garments For Men Buttons Left Handed.

Kiss Me—that is the name of the latest creation in coats to be worn this season.

It has the Prince Chap and Merry Widow variety beaten a league, and its designer, a tailor of Fifth avenue, New York, at the tailors' convention in New York the other day announced that it was intended especially for bridegrooms.

The new coat is intended to give a particularly effeminate appearance. It buttons left handed, like a woman's jacket, is tight fitting, supplied with an extra pocket for the groom to carry his roll in and fitted with a sort of folding effect in front that gives its wearer the correct feminine figure, flat hips and pouter pigeon front.

NO BAD EGGS FOR THE HOUSEWIFE

If the Pure Food Law Will be Enforced by the Inspectors Over the State.

STORAGE EGGS LABELED FRESH

That peculiar feeling that comes over one when at the breakfast table he inserts his knife into a boiled egg and finds fermentation, or something, has done an awful work inside will not be so prevalent if the State Food Inspectors' orders are obeyed.

Inspectors from the office of H. E. Barnard, State food and drug commissioner, will give an interpretation of the word "egg" to every dealer in Indiana with a view to separating the product into proper classes.

"When a housewife telephones her grocer to send up a dozen eggs," said Mr. Barnard, "she is entitled to receive eggs that are fresh, and not those that have been in storage for a long time. Eggs are divided into several different classes; they are just plain, ordinary eggs, then there are fresh eggs and various other sorts, and we proposed to have all of them properly classed."

There are some dealers, it is declared, who have placed a "fresh" label on cases which really contain "storage" eggs. It is to check this violation that the food authorities are to act. There will be prosecutions if the false labeling continues.

A Famous Year.

It is contended that the year 1800 gave more celebrities and persons of genius to the world than any other year of the nineteenth century. Among those who were born in that memorable year were Abraham Lincoln, Edgar Allan Poe, Oliver Wendell Holmes, William Ewart Gladstone, Charles Darwin, Lord Houghton, Alfred Tennyson, Edward Fitzgerald, Professor Blackie, Mary Cowden Clarke and Felix Mendelssohn.

Absolutely Free.

Angry Mother (suddenly entering parlor and catching young music teacher kissing her daughter)—Young man, is this what I pay you for? Music Teacher—No, ma'am; I make no charge for this.—Florida Times-Union.

Inconsistency.

"Pa, what is the meaning of inconsistency?" asked Freddy.
"Inconsistency, my son," exclaimed pa, "means a man who grows all day and then goes home and kicks the dog for barking at night."

TELLS WOMAN TO SMOKE TOBACCO

Lady Doctor Says "Weed" Should be Used Three Times a Day—Much Benefit Derived.

VALUABLE TO THE NERVES

Something new in the feminine world would be adopted if the women would follow the advice of Dr. Rachel S. Skidelsky, one of the best known women practitioners in Philadelphia. Her advice has been a source of comment to the Women's Clubs of that city by advocating the smoking of cigarettes by the fair sex.

"I feel sure that tobacco, if pure and properly used, might be beneficial to women," said Dr. Skidelsky. "It is known to be valuable in functional disorders of the nerves, I think that if a woman would sit down for five minutes before beginning her day's work and give the time to a cigarette she would be able to plan her work better. And the five minutes thus used three times daily would be, I think, of much benefit to her."

Dr. Skidelsky was born in Russia. She has lived in the United States thirty-nine years.

GROWTH OF CARICATURE.

John Law's Wild Schemes Gave It a Tremendous Impetus.

Caricature is nowadays one of the principal methods of criticism. No movement can overreach the mark without eliciting dozens of works of art from caricaturists all over this and all other countries.

This branch of criticism and attack dates far back, but the greatest impulse it ever felt came from the age of tremendous speculation, when, in 1719 and 1730, John Law was manipulating things financial in France. Never before had the financial world been so carried off its feet as it was at that time. Members of the nobility were waiting for a chance to purchase shares in Law's schemes. Duchesses and ladies of high renown tried their most persuasive charms on Law in the attempt to get hold of shares. Men hired out their backs for writing desks, so great was the press of business in making contracts, and one lunchback is reputed to have made 100,000 francs in this way in a few weeks. The French went veritably mad over the schemes to become wealthy. Naturally the papers of the time, especially those of Holland, caricatured the state of affairs. There were pictures of all sorts caricaturing Law, the nobility, the schemes and everything connected with them.

It was this tremendous amount of pictorial work that first directed the energies of William Hogarth in London in this direction. Caricaturing began to be used more and more in the political field, and soon afterward it caused the shelving of Robert Walpole from the English ministry. Ever since then has caricaturing been one of the bitterest and most effectual methods of checking public men and their schemes.

Another Knock.

"Hotel clerks are cold hearted," sighed the shabby tragedian, who was traveling with a toothbrush and a compass.
"Speaking from experience, pal?" asked his barnstorming chum.
"Sure! I approached the clerk of the Red Dog Inn and told him actors deserved special terms."
"Ah, indeed! And what did he say?"
"He said yes, they deserved six month terms in the county workhouse."—Chicago News.

ALL POINT TO SEVERE WINTER

The Home-Made Weather Prophets
Base Judgment on Certain Signs.

TO BE COLD, HARD, AND CRUEL

Farmers Say That the Hickory Nut
Shells, Barks of Trees and Pelts are Very Thick.

The pelts of animals are looked to by many familiar with folk-lore as indicators of the hardness of the coming winter. This year there is no question, from various reports from over the country, that pelts are better than usual, hair being thicker and longer.

The weather bureau at Washington sends out reports to the effect that the coming winter will probably not be as mild as the last two winters were. Last winter, and the winter before that, fires were unnecessary much of the time. The signs say that these conditions will not exist this year—and the weather bureau is inclined to look at things in the same way.

What is a hard winter?
The question is being asked by everybody, because it is naturally of keen interest to practically everyone. Farmers and townspeople alike, would like to know the severity of the winter because of what it will mean to them.

The farmers go by certain signs and those signs farmers say now indicate that the winter will be both long and severe. For instance, the shells on the hickory nuts are unusually thick this year. That is, the farmers say, a never failing sign.

Another sign that is looked up to considerably, is the thickness of bark on trees. For the last three or four winters, say men who have observed the matter, tree bark has, in most instances been comparatively thin. This year, however, it is different. One farmer in town the other day said it was certain that bark of trees is at least one and one-half times thicker as a whole, this year than it was last year.

HAS VOTED MANY TIMES IN HIS LIFE

James H. Foxworthy Has Cast Vote
For 17 Presidents—Voted First for Wm. Henry Harrison.

CHOICE LOST BUT FEW TIMES

James H. Foxworthy, father of Mrs. T. M. Green, living in East Fifth street, voted for President today for the seventeenth time in his life. Mr. Foxworthy cast a vote first for William Henry Harrison in 1840, when he was 18 years old. The law in the State of Kentucky, where he lived permitted anyone belonging to the State militia, of which he was a member, to vote at the age of eighteen. In nearly every instance his choice for presidency was elected.

LOST A BUNCH OF BILLS

While standing with a large crowd at the I. & C. traction station Taylor Lakin lost fifty-five dollars out of his pants pocket, four ten dollar bills and three fives.

At the Republican headquarters later, someone reported finding the money, but the party could not be found yesterday.

Two Rural Clowns

New Castle, Ind., Nov. 2—No matter who is elected President at Tuesday's election, Bryan or Taft, a large crowd of people will be present in this city next Saturday afternoon to see carried out the provisions of a freak election bet made by Harvey H. Yauky and Henry Shook, two farmers living in the Shellbark neighborhood, east of this city. Yauky is a radical Bryan man, while Shook is just as enthusiastic for Taft, the Republican nominee. They have made a wager that if Taft is elected, Yauky, attired in his wife's sunbonnet and a string of sleigh bells must push a wheelbarrow in which Shook is riding, around the public square in this city at 2 o'clock next Saturday afternoon. Should Bryan be elected Shook must be the motive power and Yauky the rider. Should he "motive power" deliberately or wilfully upset the rider he is to forfeit $50.

Both men are well known and a large number of friends of each will gather next Saturday afternoon to see the terms of the wager carried out and to help poke fun at the loser.

Manilla has just passed through another of the numerous fires from which it has suffered within the past sixteen years. Two saw mills were destroyed. In 1893 Dr. Barnum's barn; in 1904 the hotel and sanitarium; in 1896 the Main street conflagration destroyed the meat market, barber shop, restaurant, saloon, two dry good stores, two drug stores, one harness shop, two dwellings and photograph gallery. This was followed two years later by the livery stable fire on Main street, which destroyed the livery barn, implement store and blacksmith shop, besides damaging other buildings. Later the grocery store of O. D. Green on Main street, and about two years ago the implement store of J. E. Creed. Last Thursday the building formerly owned C. M. Taylor and lately purchased by F. A. Mull and fitted up and occupied by Whisman & Maffett as a general store caught fire and burned to the ground together with the entire stock of goods. By heroic fighting the adjacent buildings were saved though considerably damaged. The elevator was on fire several times as was the residences of John A. English and William Smith, but was put out before any serious damage was done. The loss is estimated at $5000 with partial insurance.

How to Cure Skin Diseases.

Eczema, pimples, dandruff and itching skin diseases are of local origin and are caused by germs. In order to cure these diseases the germs and their poisons must be driven to the surface of the skin and destroyed. Salves and greasy lotions may give temporary relief, but they do not destroy the germs that cause the disease. A St. Louis chemist has discovered a clean vegetable liquid remedy that will draw the germs and their poisons to the surface of the skin and destroy them, leaving a nice, clear, healthy skin. This remedy is known as Zemo, and by its many remarkable cures has attracted the attention of the leading scientists and skin specialists of this country and Europe.

Zemo has been given the most cordial reception by the public of any similar remedy ever produced, and it is recognized as an honest medicine that makes honest cures.

Zemo is for sale everywhere. You can obtain a trial package free by writing to the E. W. ROSE MEDICINE CO., St. Louis, Mo. Mr. F. E. Wolcott has secured the agency for Zemo in Rushville, and will gladly show you proof of some of the wonderful cures made by this remarkable

Indigestion

Stomach trouble is but a symptom of, and not in itself a true disease. We think of Dyspepsia, Heartburn, and Indigestion as real diseases, yet they are symptoms only of a certain specific Nerve sickness—nothing else.

It was this fact that first correctly led Dr. Shoop in the creation of that now very popular Stomach Remedy—Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Going direct to the stomach nerves, alone brought that success and favor to Dr. Shoop and his Restorative. Without that original and highly vital principle, no such lasting accomplishments were ever to be had.

For stomach distress, bloating, biliousness, bad breath and sallow complexion, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—and see for yourself what it can and will do. We sell and cheerfully recommend it.

INCREASED REPRESENTATION

The Administration Party Claims That

Today's Vote Will Give it an Increased Representation in the 61st Congress Declaring That "the Country Will Not Place the Revision of the Tariff in the Hands of the Enemies of the Tariff"—Washington

Watching This Phase of Today's Battle With Concern.

Washington, Nov. 3.—The computations of probable election results, of whom Washington boasts of more than her quota, are not permitting the overshadowing importance of the presidential contest to cause them to close their eyes to the circumstance that a new congress will come in with the new president, whoever he may be.

and there is much concern regarding its political complexion. All concede that there is no possibility of a Democratic senate, but there is more room for speculation regarding the house of representatives.

Before the adjournment of the last session the Democratic leaders in the house made no effort to conceal their intention of "going after" that important legislative body, and while their Republican opponents met these taunts with a smile, they have not been unconcerned. They know that the present Republican control may be reversed by changes in comparatively few congressional districts. They are awake to the fact that even a less disastrous revolution than took place in 1906 would cause the change they fear for the Democrats then captured twenty-eight districts which had been held by Republicans, whereas only thirty-two reversals would now be necessary to give the house to the Democrats. They have been exerting themselves to prevent any such change.

The Democratic managers make no secret of the fact that they have been giving their special attention to the close districts, to those having Republican majorities of 2,000 or less. There are many such in the Mississippi valley states, and in those they are doing their most earnest work. At the same time they have not been slighting the labor districts of Eastern states. They contend that prospects are good.

The Republicans make no concessions, but even claim increased Republican representation in the Sixty-first congress. "The country," they say "will not place the revision of the tariff in the hands of the enemies of the tariff."

My Promotion.

(Original.)

When Alice Coale told me that she was engaged to Tom Martin I felt a sickening sensation about the heart that could only come to a young person. I might feel a bitter disappointment today, but it would not be of the same kind. Alice looked at me surprised. "Why, what's the matter John?" she said.

"Nothing," I replied, endeavoring to pull myself together. "Only I'm afraid Tom mightn't turn out good enough for you—that's all."

"Oh, that's all, is it? Well, don't worry about that. A fellow as smart, as popular, as trustworthy, as Tom is good enough for a far better girl than I. Mother says she'd rather trust to his judgment in business matters than to that of older heads."

"Oh, I only meant he wasn't good enough for you."

"You lumbering, good natured stupid, John," she said, taking my hand and pressing it caressingly. "You will always be my dearest friend."

That was very kind of her.

A few months later I was startled by one of those mysterious rumors that are spoken under the breath for a brief period before they become public property. It was that Tom Martin had been borrowing money from any one who would lend it to him. Then I heard that he had disappeared. Following closely on this came the news that Mrs. Coale had given him all her money for investment, and he had either sunk it or taken it with him. Since he had paid none of his debts it was presumed that he had taken it with him.

Detectives visited his room and took away every scrap of paper they could find there, though Tom before leaving had left nothing to show where he had gone. He had borrowed a book of me, and I went to his room to see if I could find it. It was lying on his table, and I carried it home with me. That evening I took it up and opened it. Between the cover and the title page was a library card on which were entries of several books taken out within a few weeks. The book he had borrowed from me was "Australasian Sketches." I wondered what kind of literature he had been taking from the library. Curiosity, mingled with a feeling that I might gather some clew with reference to his acts, led me the next day to take the card to the library and have a look at the books he had been reading. What was my astonishment to find that one was upon Central America, three upon Honduras and a fifth on the rubber industry of that state.

After some thought these were my deductions: Tom had at first thought of going to Australia, but had changed to Central America. He had selected Honduras and when he got there would invest the money he had taken in either the rubber trade or a rubber forest. More likely the latter, since it would give him a better chance to hide from the world.

The day after I reached these conclusions I started for Florida and from there sailed for Honduras. Landing at Puerto Cabello, I went into the interior. I made inquiries for an American who had come to Honduras to negotiate for a rubber tract. The state is not a large one, and any one going there with money would not remain unnoticed by its people. Of course it would be useless to inquire for one by the name of Martin, for the skulker was doubtless using an assumed name.

It was just two weeks to a day when I learned of a man answering Martin's description who was dickering for a rubber tract some ten miles away from me. I went to where he was and on a porch in a small town came upon the man I was hunting. When he saw me he collapsed. I told him that all I wanted was Mrs. Coale's money or as much of it as he had left. If he would give me this he might stay where he was for all me as long as he liked; if not he would go back to stand trial. He turned over eighteen $1,000 United States bonds, which was what remained of Mrs. Coale's little fortune. I accepted for it and started home.

I found that Alice had taken a position and gone to work. The evening of my return I called on her and her mother. This was the first time I had seen them since their misfortune. Mrs. Coale chided me for having kept away in the hours of their trouble, while Alice maintained a cold reserve. I didn't know whether to attribute it to the cause her mother mentioned or some other. In truth, she seemed stunned. I'm not naturally facile in opening subjects and sat for some time, speaking only when I did speak on commonplace topics, trying to frame what I should say concerning the object of my call. I knew I would make the mother glad, but was all in the dark about Alice. Finally, despairing of finding proper words, I took the bonds from my pocket and tossed them on the table.

"They're yours," I said. "I tracked him and got them. There's only a small loss."

I'm very poor at descriptions, among other things, and it wouldn't do for me to try to give the scene that followed. Mrs. Coale was so beside herself with joy that for a time she forgot even to thank me. Alice broke into sobs and, clutching my hand, her head sank down on it. When I came to myself I found my eyes wet and my arm around her waist. But meanwhile I'd had it there for some time without her discovering it either, so I didn't hurry to take it away.

Well, I was promoted from best friend to—the other thing.

CRANBERRY SAUCE AND ROAST TURKEY

Are in Order For Thanksgiving
Month Which is Upon Us.

SUBJECT FOR THANKFULNESS

This is Thanksgiving month, the month sacred to pumpkin pie and roast turkey with cranberry sauce fixings. Have we not all something to be thankful for? On the whole it has been a good year. Our barns and store houses are well filled. We have cozy, comfortable homes, and the dear faces surround the evening lamp while the log crackles and sputters on the hearth. Some of us may be light in pocket, but there is no reason why we should not be all light in heart. If we have done some soul a kindness, and helped some stumbling burden-bearer over a hard place, we are certain to have that singing in our hearts which makes us think of the angel chorus.

ARE DOING SOME WORK, TOO

GO SLOW THROUGH MILROY

WHAT CAUSES DYSPEPSIA?

And Incidentally Constipation, Coated Tongue, Nervousness, Headache and Other Symptoms.

Did you ever know that the stomach is a churn? That just as soon as you are done eating the healthy stomach commences to roll the food around, and mixes it thoroughly with the juices of the stomach?

And did you know, dear reader, that if the stomach is run down or flabby, so that it cannot do the churning, that dyspepsia is the result?

If the food is not churned, it lays heavily on your stomach, turns sour, and causes all kinds of distressing symptoms, such as headache, coated tongue, constipation, etc.

And so, as every physician will tell you, the way to cure dyspepsia is to fix the churn, or in other words, build up the stomach so that it will properly mix the food.

If you have dyspepsia and want to get rid of it before it gets rid of you, go to F. B. Johnson & Co., the druggists, and get a large box of Mi-o-na tablets. The cost is only 50 cents, and every reader of the Republican is welcome to his or her money back if Mi-o-na does not cure.

Mi-o-na has cured thousands of the worst and most obstinate cases of indigestion. It quickly cures sea or ear sickness and vomiting of pregnancy.

Mi-o-na is the great stomach tonic one or two tablets will stop sea or ear sickness, vomiting of pregnancy, and will instantly tone up the worn out stomach the morning after the social session.

Wood's Liver Medicine in liquid form for malaria, chills and fever, regulates the liver, kidneys and bladder, brings quick relief to biliousness, sick headache, constipation. Pleasant to take. ## NEW NEWSPAPER FOR KNIGHTSTOWN

Stock Company Being Organized to Establish a True Blue Republican Paper.

PROMINENT MEN INTERESTED

Knights town, Nov. 3.—A stock company is being organized and stock is being liberally subscribed for the purpose of publishing a Republican organ, local leaders having grown tired of the wishy-washy proclivities of the local paper. The proposition now is to establish a newspaper, the editorial desk of which will be controlled by the company.

The proposition has been brewing for several months, but came to a head this week. Some of the most prominent men of Wayne township have taken hold of the matter and the stock is now in the hands of one of the tried and true Republicans.

The details are being closed up as rapidly as possible and according to the present indications the new paper will make its bow to the public in a short time. No selfish purpose will be subserved and it will be a Republican plan from first to last.

Here's Where the Fun Comes In

A well known society woman was badly scared yesterday, and an innocent peddler, trying to sell his wares, was the cause. It seems the woman, who hasn't a hired girl, was expecting a party of friends. She was busy dressing when she heard a rap on the front door. Coming close to the door, and standing there in her skirts and corset cover, and looking more or less deshabelle, she cried:

"Come right in. Don't knock. I'll be down in just one minute. Make yourselves right at home."

Entered the peddler with his pack, his hat in his hand, and evidently pleased at the cordial greeting extended him.

With a scream of horror, the woman cried: "Get out of here as quick as you can, I don't want anything."

And the peddler made a hasty exit, surprised at the woman's change. She made a hasty run to her dressing room where she completed her toilet.

The woman declares that the moral of the incident is that all married women should have maids.

You remember Edgar Hite! He practiced law in Rushville with Judge Morris. Edgar was married recently and sailed away on a honeymoon. Here is what the Greensburg News says of his return last Saturday:

"It was a great reception that the good people of the Clarksburg vicinity tendered Edgar Hite and bride when they visited at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Cartmel, there Saturday night. They had hardly arrived in the village when a large delegation of their friends met them. Mr. Hite was bundled bodily onto a white horse which for size would rival the prehistoric mammoth, and if supplied with a trunk, would have resembled the G. O. P. of the Republican party. His ride on the creature of ancient birth was over the entire village, after which at the Cartmel home an elegant reception was held in their honor at which many friends of both the bride and groom were present."

An old lady in a buggy stopped in front of a local grocery store.

"Have you a good ten cent head of cabbage?" she asked.

"Yep," replied an obliging clerk as he hustled to select a head and show it to her.

"Thank ye," said the woman as she clucked to her horse to start. "I've got some cabbage to sell and I wanted to see how large a head you gave for ten cents."

The Indianapolis News will probably "flopp" tomorrow.

There was the usual last day rush at the county treasurer's office yesterday.

Beginning tomorrow we will witness the "freaks" paying their "freak bets."

Of course lots and lots of people got "all worked up" over politics and forgot to vote.

New Castle Courier: T. M. Greenlee made the best speech of the campaign at the smoker Saturday night.

This was surely Republican weather. If it rains on election day it makes one feel so mean that they will do most anything—even to voting the Democratic ticket.

The meeting of the directors of the Rush County Fair Association held last Saturday was adjourned until Saturday Nov. 28th, when they will elect officers.

Watson had a great meeting at Shelbyville last night where he "wound up" the campaign—the most memorable gubernatorial campaign in the history of the State.

A blacksmith said a few days ago that it was surprising how many rubber tires are being used these days. The blacksmiths buy tires by the reel. A large reel of rubber for buggy tires costs $122.

There will be a meeting at the Salvation Army church on Wednesday evening for the purpose of organizing a Young People's meeting. A special program has been arranged and everyone is cordially invited to attend.
